Sunshine Summit 2013
Who's Defending your Right to Know?
September 23 - 25 - 27, 2013

In recognition of Right to Know Week, the Privacy and Access Council of Canada present:

Sunshine Summit 2013 on Friday, September 27, 2013 in Victoria, B.C. to explore

Who's Defending Your Right to Know?

In celebration of the 10th annual Right to Know Week, PACC-CCAP presents the Sunshine Summits to raise awareness and generate discussion about access rights and practices. And to learn about the cumulative impact on your right to gain access to information that will come with recent provincial and federal initiatives.

What? This year's most advanced open government event in Victoria, BC. Unique opportunities to hear experts discuss and share ideas about access rights and practices.

Why? Ready access to information allows citizens to participate in the policy decisions of their government, and to question the actions of their government. Openness is widely regarded as the easiest way of signaling that an organization is governed with integrity and that those in authority are unconcerned about being scrutinized.

Who? Participants invited from across the stakeholder spectrum, but particularly from provincial politics, academia, technology, media and the regulatory community.

How? Registered guests may submit relevant questions ahead of time, for the speakers to address during the Sunshine Summit.

Where? St. Ann"s Academy, 835 Humboldt Street, Victoria, BC

When? Friday, September 27, 2013,
  Registration & continental breakfast - 8.00 – 8.30AM
  Summit – 8.30AM to 4.00PM (including lunch & refreshments)

3 Easy Ways to Register

On-line - http://www.pacc-ccap.ca/index.php/sunshine-summit

Phone - 877-746-7222

Email – events@pacc-ccap.ca

Summit Rate's - PACC Members & students - $55.00
   - Non-member - $75.00

Mail cheques to: PACC, Suite 330, Unit 440, 10816 Macleod Trail SE, Calgary, Alberta, T2J 5N8

About the Privacy and Access Council of Canada

PACC-CCAP is the national association in Canada dedicated to the Access and Privacy Community in both the private and public sectors. Our experts, resources, and knowledge are relevant to members of the profession as well as to others who are interested in understanding Canada's access and privacy landscape.

For more on how you can learn, network, grow and become a member with PACC-CCAP visit www.pacc-ccap.ca or contact us at events@pacc-ccap.ca or by phone at 877-746-7222

Sponsors

FIPA — BC FREEDOM OF INFORMATION AND PRIVACY ASSOCIATION

BD&P

websense

Wordsworth & Associates — CANADIAN INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY SECURITY CONSULTANTS

AMINA CORP.CA

ROCKY MOUNTAIN CIVIL LIBERTIES ASSOCIATION

Alberta Civil Liberties Research Centre

ECTO-1 PRODUCTIONS

Privacy and Access 20/20 — A New Vision for Information Rights — OCT 10-11, 2013 | VANCOUVER

NEWSPAPERS CANADA JOURNAUX CANADIENS

Featured Speakers

Marianne Alto, Acting Mayor & Councillor, City of Victoria & Director, Capital Regional District

Darrell Evans, Director, The Open Government Project & Founder, BC Freedom of Information and Privacy Association'

Micheal Vonn, Policy Director, BC Civil Liberties Association

Rob Wipond, Journalist & Freelance Writer

David Flaherty, Former Information and Privacy Commissioner for BC

Jay Fedorak, Assistant Privacy Commissioner, BC

Kevin McArthur, Author of Pro PHP, owner at StormTide.ca. Director at CIRA and the Open Data Society of BC

George Heyman, MLA Vancouver-Fairview

Christopher Parsons, Doctoral Candidate, Political Science, University of Victoria

Stanley Tromp, Freelance Journalist & Global Freedom of Information Law Scholar

Christina Crabtree, Director of Information Technology, District of Maple Ridge, B.C

Lamont Orange, Senior Director, Information Security Websense

Summit Agenda

FRIDAY, September 27, 2013 – Victoria, BC.

Time	Session
8:00 am - 8:30 am	Registration & Continental breakfast
8:30 am - 8:45 am	Welcome Address & Opening remarks Sharon Polsky, President, Privacy & Access Council of Canada Marianne Alto, Acting Mayor, City of Victoria
8:45 am - 9:45 am	Darrell Evans, Executive Director Canadian Institute for Information and Privacy Studies The Right to Know and the Fight to Know: Where are we in the epic struggle for access to information?
9:45am - 10:00 am	Coffee Break
10:00 am - 11:00 am	Panel to discuss: It's just metadata! Of course we're not listening to your calls or reading your email! Panel members: Lamont Orange, Senior Director, Information Security, Websense (Moderator) Kevin McArthur - Director at CIRA and the Open Data Society of BC Christopher Parsons, Doctoral Candidate, Political Science, University of Victoria Micheal Vonn, Policy Director, BC Civil Liberties Association
11:00am - Noon	Panel to discuss: Foiling FOI: Emerging problems in the public's ability to discover what our government is up to! Panel members: David Flaherty, Former Information and Privacy Commissioner for B.C. - (Moderator) Rob Wipond, Journalist George Heyman, MLA, Opposition Critic for Technology, Innovation, Citizens' Services Stanley Tromp, Journalist
Noon - 1:15 pm	Lunch break & networking
1:15pm - 2:15 pm	Micheal Vonn, Policy Director, BC Civil Liberties Association How will the reduction in EU privacy affect Canadians right to access information?
2:15pm - 2:30 pm	Break
2:30pm - 3:45pm	Panel to discuss - When Systems Fail: The current state of technology, transparency, accountability and liability when our personal information is breached Sharon Polsky, President, PACC (Moderator) Jay Fedorak, Assistant Privacy Commissioner Christina Crabtree, Director of Information Technology, District of Maple Ridge, BC Darrell Evans, Executive Director, Canadian Institute for Information and Privacy Studies Society
3:45pm - 4:00pm	Closing remarks Charles Wordsworth, Director of Marketing & Innovation, Privacy & Access Council of Canada & Principal Consultant, Wordsworth & Associates

Location/Directions

St. Ann's Academy is located at 835 Humboldt Street, between Blanshard and Quadra Streets in Victoria, British Columbia, Canada. St. Ann's is located three blocks from Victoria's Inner Harbour at the eastern end of Belleville Street.

Street Address:
835 Humboldt Street Victoria, BC Canada